SAN PABLO TO REDRAFT CODE OF DISTRICT

Reorganization Needed To Make Up-To-Date District, Claim

Residents of San Pablo feel that the provisions of the act under which the Sanitary District operates should conform to the modern act of 1923, and are therefore bringing their petition to the supervisors for approval.

Six Suits Filed In Martinez In Tunnel Deaths

MARTINEZ, Dec. 3.—Six damage suits seeking a total of $30,000, were filed in Superior Court here by the Federal Mutual Liability Insurance Company against the Smith Brothers, contractors, and the East Bay Municipal Utility District.

The suits are the direct result of the Claremont Tunnel disaster of Thanksgiving day in 1926 when a number of men were drowned when a dam which had been built to divert the waters of San Pablo creek broke and flooded the tunnel.

The six suits represent the effort of insurers for workmen employed by Grier & Mead to collect from Smith Brothers, contractors on the Lafayette tunnel and the East Bay district, for losses sustained through the payment of insurance policies on the lives of men drowned in the Claremont tunnel.

The insurance company claims that the cofferdam, which collapsed, causing the flood and the consequent loss of ten lives, was negligently constructed by Smith Bros. with the consent of the East Bay Utilities. The sum of $150 each was paid for the six funerals and an additional $5,000 each on the life insurance policies, written for P. Sanders, J. Coleman, Joe Boleck, Tony Segurak, Steve Zigich and Chris Orso.

Damage suits resulting from the tunnel disaster heretofore filed have all been against Grier & Mead and the East Bay Utilities. The latest sextet of actions are the first attempts of Grier & Mead or its insurers to collect from those alleged to have been in the first instance responsible for the flooding of the tunnel with an appalling loss of life.

Local Couple Observe 64th Anniversary Of Marriage

Pair Residents Of This City For The Last Sixteen Years

All day yesterday Mrs. James Powers of 128 First street, was busy tidying up her attractive little cottage and preparing food for a special dinner today. And assisting her with the work was her husband, her helpmate for many years. Today is their sixtieth wedding anniversary.

On December 4, 1863, they were married in Glasgow, Scotland. They have made their home in many cities of the British Isles and the United States, finally settling in Richmond where they plan to spend the remainder of their lives.

87 AND 85

Towers celebrated his eighty-seventh birthday October 11 and Mrs. Towers will be 85 on Christmas eve. With all their years, the couple are still active, clear-minded and healthy.

They will spend their anniversary together quietly. As on any other Sunday, they will attend services in the First Presbyterian church, of which denomination they have been members since early childhood. The afternoon they will spend in their home.

LIVED IN GLASGOW

When Towers was 23 years of age, he took his bride of 21 years to the altar. They resided in Glasgow two years and then moved to Barrow-Furness, England, but returned to Glasgow in 1869 and remained there ten years.

In 1879, they embarked to the United States, first making their home in St. Louis. From then until 1909, they lived in various states, including Minnesota, New Mexico and California. The year they arrived in Richmond, they purchased their home on First street where they have lived since.

Four of their eleven children are still living. They are: James Powers, Jr., of Richmond; Mrs. Jean Doak of Spokane, Wash.; Mrs. Bessie Trauth, of Albuquerque N. M. and George Towers, of Taft. Besides the two sons and two daughters, there are 14 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

San Pablo Children Establish Records In School Banks

Much credit is being given to San Pablo school children in Contra Costa banking circles for the splendid record they are making in their school's saving bank. Each of these has received an honor roll and 100 per cent buttons. On Wednesday last, 289 pupils deposited in the school bank.

To A. E. Palmer, the principal, and to Miss Blanch Hopkins, eighth grade teacher and thrift advisor, must be given credit for this record.

DRURY STARS AS TROJANS BEAT HUSKIES

Thundering Herd Is Far Superior To Rivals Of The North

COLISEUM, LOS ANGELES, Dec. 3.—Beneath a blazing sun, the shifty University of Southern California "Thundering Herd" this afternoon completely outclassed their heavier rivals from the University of Washington, trouncing them by the score of 33 to 13. Approximately 62,000 fans attended the game.

ONCE IN EACH QUARTER

The Trojans scored once in every quarter, twice in the second. Capt. Morley Drury was the outstanding star of the game, being responsible for three touchdowns before he was replaced by Howard Elliot.

The Huskies saved themselves from complete disaster when in the third quarter a long pass, Carroll to Douglas, brought the ball on the Trojans' two yard line. Carroll plunged over center and Capt. Pot Wilson kicked goal. The Huskies scored once more in the fourth quarter.

Louis Tesreau, hefty Husky triple threat halfback was injured in the first play of the game. This was a severe blow to Washington hopes of victory.

TECH DEFEATS GEORGIA

ATLANTA, Dec. 3.—On a sloppy, slippery field Georgia Tech defeated Georgia University in their annual football classic this afternoon, winning the Southern Conference championship and blasting the ambitions of the bull dogs to claim the National football title.

The score was 13 to 0.

Durant scored the first touchdown and Thompson the second. Tech failed to kick goal for the extra points after both touchdowns.

The game was playing under lowering skies with a tang of winter in the air although the rain had ceased before noon.

More than 40,000 saw the game.

Suicide of East Bay Clubman Is Latest Theory

Efforts of his father, brother and the police to find any trace of Claude R. Corbuser, Berkeley insurance man and war veteran, who left home last Thursday evening and has not been seen or heard of since, were futile yesterday. He declared before leaving that he was going to Richmond on business.

Corbuser has been in failing health for several years. Gassed in the World War and slowly going blind, he is believed to have become disheartened.

The search yesterday, including a check on all his clients in the insurance business and his associates in the Berkeley Rotary club, Elks and veterans organizations. The fact that he left a note to his brother and partner, Frank Corbuser, giving details as to the conduct of the business, and that he failed to take his automobile and private papers usually carried are taken to confirm the belief that he was contemplating suicide.

Corbuser's wife and children are visiting in the East.

Mt. Diablo Game In Big Increase

MARTINEZ, Dec. 3.—Protection afforded by the Mt. Diablo game refuge is resulting in the rapid propagation of wild life on the peak, according to Tax Collector M. W. Joost.

During a hike through the refuge yesterday Joost observed eight deer, saw a number of pheasants and a goodly number of flocks of quail. Up until a few years ago, when the game refuge was created, game was exceedingly scarce on the slopes of the meridian mountain.

Game wardens are receiving the active co-operation of the Contra Costa Sportsmen's Club in their efforts to prevent poaching on the state preserve. That some success is being secured is attributed by the report of Joost and other visitors to the refuge of a notable increase in its wild life.

The Richmond circle of the Neighbor of Woodcraft sent a delegation to Alma Circle in East Oakland to present the drill team with a banner. The team from Alma circle will make a trip to Portland in 1928.

PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES IN CENTER STAGE

Cal Praised For Number Of Achievements In Solid Economy

Washington, Dec. 3. — "About this time," the old-fashioned almanacs used to advise us, "look out for colder weather, north-westers and flurries of snow." It was safe advice on the basis of long experience.

The writer of a political almanac might paraphrase it by advising us, about this time, to "look out for great upsurges of hot air, accompanied by flurries of political activity and legislative interest." For the period is at hand when legislation and politics take the center of the stage.

Washington, of course, thinks itself the political gravity center. But Washington is only one of a multi-handed capital cities, every one seething with big and little politics during the legislative season.

Every legislature is a potential incubator of statesmen, governors, representatives, senators, presidents.

Somebody has remarked that the Senate of the United States was composed of ninety-six candidates for president. He was right, but he might have gone much farther. He could well have said that the industry of lawmaking embraced forty-nine legislatures, one national and rest state, with 5,000 or 6,000 members, every one of whom had tucked away in a confidential corner of his mind a portrait of himself as a future president.

"ABLE" LAWMAKERS

So, about this season, it is safe to be on the lookout for pieces in the paper notifying the world that the legislature which is about to convene is "easily the ablest body of lawmakers ever brought together in our fair state" and that "this is fortunate, because these men will deal with the most complex and important problems ever presented to such a body."

Here in Washington we are wont at this season to survey the situation and issue warning that the coming session is "fraught with tremendous concerns affecting the nation's destiny," and that it will "affect political processes for many years to come." Maybe—and no proper forecast must omit this—the proceedings will determine the partisan complexion and personal control of the government for a long period.

Well, this is political year when there is reason for viewing it just as seriously as that. This congressional tournament which will open on Capitol Hill Monday is going to be a real act.

Swaziland Natives Kill Great Wildbeeste Herd

JOHANNESBURG, Nov. 23.—Invasion of Swaziland by droves of wild beestes has had its aftermath in a wholesale slaughter of the marauders, according to details of a story reaching here from Komatiport.

The slaughter took place in the Black Umfolozi river, and more than 200 of the wild beestes were butchered, according to the report. The slaughter of the wild beestes was accomplished by a band of natives of Swaziland, who rounded up a herd of more than 100 of the animals by the aid of greyhounds.

The animals stampeded into the Black Umfolozi river, hoping to escape by swimming across to the other side, but the opposite bank proved a steep cliff which the wild beestes could not climb out of the water.

Finding they were trapped, the marauders attempted to swim back to the river from which they had come. They were so tightly packed together in the water, however, that many were unable to turn around. Those in the rear found the greyhounds awaiting them at the water's edge.

The slaughter began when the dogs leaped into the water and with savage ferocity tore the animals to pieces with their fangs. Armed with daggers, the natives joined the greyhounds and hacked and slashed their way among the frightened wild beestes. Many of the trapped animals also were drowned.

The marauding animals scattered up-stream and down-stream, however, and about three hundred escaped onto the Lebombo flats, where, owing to heavy rains, they were safe.

After the carnage was over, according to the Komatiport reports, the natives gathered the carcasses of many of the beestes, and held a great feast in celebration of the slaughter.

Four gasoline stations are already being erected near the entrances to the Holland vehicular tunnel in New York, according to the National Automobile Club.

Keep The Front Wheels True

The importance of keeping the front wheels in alignment cannot be over-estimated if you would get even fair service from your tires. The front wheels, unless properly aligned, will raise havoc with tire mileage. Properly adjusted, high pressure tires should toe in a quarter of an inch to compensate for the pushing apart affect of speed and the play ever present in the bushings and bearings. For balloon tires, most dealers agree that perfectly straight alignment is best, but to get this while running they must toe in about an eighth of an inch. Cramping the wheels while standing still and hitting the curb at an angle are the most common causes of throwing them out of line.

BIBLICAL FILM TO BE SHOWN AT RICHMOND

Five Act Bill Of Vaudeville At California

The constant quest of motion picture producers to find new and interesting fields for exploration in the development of the cinematic art, often demonstrates that the newest and most entertaining subjects may be found in the oldest themes of recorded history or classic tradition.

As evidence of this, the widely heralded and spectacular super-attraction film, "After Six Days," depicting in vivid fashion the stories of the Old Testament, which begins an engagement at the Richmond Theatre next Friday, Dec. 9th offers a splendid example.

Weiss Brothers' Artclass Picture Corporation, owners of this great attraction, are authority for the statement that five years of time and three millions of dollars were required to make this film masterpiece.

Hundreds of principals and thousands of "extras" were used in its production, to say nothing of an enormous technical staff. "After Six Days" is in no sense merely a religious picture, but a great historical entertainment with the widest appeal, in that it presents the drama of life itself. It is a magnificent visualization of the epic of the ages staged and photographed with accuracy and the utmost fidelity to historic record as attested by scores of the most eminent authorities in Biblical lore, of both the clergy and laity, who have viewed it.

But above and beyond all this the picture is supremely inspiring and satisfying as an entertainment. Admission prices for this attraction will be Kiddies 10c and Adults 25c.

The outstanding attraction on the five act program of Vaudeville to be seen at the California Theatre today will be the personal appearance of Nora Kelly, assisted by Nat Goldstein at the piano. Miss Kelly sings a program of special comedy hits in her own inimitable fashion most of them being from the pen of Mr. Goldstein. The talented Nat has a world of successes to his credit being the composer of such favorites as "The Haunting Waltz," "Honolulu Blues," "Mississippi Moon" and many other popular ballads as well as being co-author of the musical comedy success "Angel Face" in which score he collaborated with the late Victor Herbert.

The Redmond Players in a comedy skit entitled "Kidnapped" in which four capable artists appear are a welcome addition to any bill as their playlet is full of comedy situations and wholesome laughter.

Jessie Millar is a musical artist who features cornet piano, piano accordion and some neat whistling bits. Miss Millar is recognized in musical circles as the greatest lady cornetist in America.

Two boys, Lavelle and Heath by name who specialize in comedy harmony and yodeling and the musical Coopers in a novel and unique instrumental offering complete a worth while program.

Movie Titles Hard To Find

Titles for motion pictures that will tell the story, attract attention and be understandable to all are more precious than fourth row seats at the first night.

Hollywood producers sometimes consider and discard as many as fifty and sixty suggestions before the final selection is made. Often seemingly definite titles are given, only to have a better one supplant them. A case in point occurred during the filming of Pola Negri's latest starring picture (or Paramount). This production was first called "Sunkist" much of the action taking place in the orange country of California. This was discarded, however, in favor of "Beggars of Love," and this in turn has just been supplanted by "The Secret Hour." Rowland V. Lee directed the picture and Jean Hersholt played in support of the star.

Harry Langdon Has Red Hot Role As Fireman In New Film

Good News! Harry's here again! Yes, sir, Harry Langdon, no less, and in his latest and merriest function of full feature length which bears the red hot title, "His First Flame."

"His First Flame" will be the feature screen attraction at the California Theatre today. Harry enacts the role of a young man with plenty of money but sadly lacking in brains. Then there are two girls—sisters—one a designing schemer who is after Harry's money, the other just a simple gal with a heart of gold. Then there is Harry's uncle, a chief in the fire department, who has been married three times and now claims to know all about women. Can you not imagine the fun that may be derived from all this?

Then there are the execrably funny scenes in the fire engine house, and the excitement of an alarm of fire. The comedy rescue of the vanishing young lady and Harry's bravery in carrying a wax dummy down the fire ladder—all done in the way that only our Harry can do it!

"IRISH HEARTS" HOLDS BOARDS AT RICHMOND

The charm of May McAvoy's personality suffuses "Irish Hearts" with a glowing loveliness. It is the second Warner Brothers' production to be made under her new long-term contract and her starring role is distinctly a "personality part" and fits the diminutive star like a glove. The vivacious, fun-loving Patsy from Erin offers a character that brings out all of Miss McAvoy's radiant self. The magnetic force of her individuality has never been so strongly felt as in "Irish Hearts."

Instead of the wistful, languishing beauty of "Lady Windermere's Fan," there is a high-spirited, unconquerable colleen with a flash in her eye and a quick retort on her pretty lips, a fighting little "Irish" who is up in arms when her patience is tried to the breaking point by an intolerant employer, a faithless sweetheart, and a shiftless father.

"Irish Hearts" proves conclusively that May McAvoy has not only beauty of face and form, but that inward beauty which produces the invaluable, intangible quality, known "charm." Jason Robards, Kathleen Key, Warner Richmond, Les Bates and Walter Rodgers are in the cast. Byron Haskin directed the story which was adapted by Graham Baker from a story by Melville Crossman.

"Irish Hearts" comes to the Richmond Theatre today. Other film features include "Much Mystery," a Mermaid comedy; and a Grantland Rice "Sportlight."

Oakland Motor Co. Names New District Representative

The appointment of H. P. C. J. as district representative for California, Arizona and Nevada, has just been announced by the Oakland Motor Co. The new representative will be in charge of the Oakland Motor Co. sales and service in the entire western United States. He will be in charge of the Oakland Motor Co. sales and service in the entire western United States. He will be in charge of the Oakland Motor Co. sales and service in the entire western United States.

Grove comes to the Coast with a long and enviable record in the service of the Oakland Motor Co. Formerly with the district offices of the company at Minneapolis, Grove was sent to the office of the company at St. Paul, Minn., where he remained in charge of that territory for nearly two years. He was then transferred to Pittsburgh, Pa., as head of the Pittsburgh office and now, after two very successful years in charge at Pittsburgh, he came to the Coast to assume charge of the three states operating under the San Francisco office of the company.

In announcing Grove's appointment, Draves said: "The demand for Oakland and Pontiac sixes during the past few months has been much greater than the capacity of the factory at Pontiac could supply. This has been something of a hardship on the dealers, but was unavoidable due to the increase in demand which was more rapid than had been anticipated by factory officials. Our factory expansion program already was under way, but installation of machinery and equipment, to say nothing of the building of new factory buildings, takes time and we are only now beginning to obtain shipments of Pontiacs approaching the immediate requirements of dealers. The shortage in Oakland probably will continue until some time after the first of the year, the factory plant expansion on Oakland having been held up to some extent by the introduction of the All-American

CHECK BRAKE

The brake pull-back springs on your car should be at proper tension to release the brakes when not in use. If the brakes are not released properly, oil the working parts.

New Hampshire automobile registrations have increased 6800 during the last year.

If everything withstood heat as well as Oronite cleaning fluid there would be no need of fire prevention, according to Fire Chief W. P. Cooper, whom a RECORD-HERALD staff photographer snapped in the picture above. The can or Oronite was in a building which was badly damaged by fire, and yet was unimpaired save for the burning off of the paper on the tin. "The advantage of Oronite lies in the fact that it is non-explosive," says Chief Cooper. "It takes the place of gasoline as a cleaning fluid, doing the work better and with no chance of an explosion. Out of 19 fires where there was a loss last year, two of them resulted from using gasoline for cleaning. Eleven percent of the fires could have been eliminated by using a safe product such as Oronite cleaning fluid." American fire damage is $1,064 per minute, and it is interesting to note at the this point the record set in Richmond by Chief Cooper. Last year the per capita loss by fire was 28 cents, unexcelled for a city of this class in the United States. To date this year the fire loss here is 11 cents. Following are interesting figures for comparison: United States, $2.10; France, .49; England, .33; Germany, .28; Italy and Austria, .25; Switzerland, .15; Holland, .11. All the gold, silver, copper and petroleum products produced in a year equal the Fire Tax. Help Chief Cooper prevent fires!

Sales Of New Buick Models Sets Record In Auto World

Rounding out its twenty-second year with the largest volume of business in its history, the Buick distributorship founded on the Pacific Coast in 1905 by Charles S. Howard this week enters its twenty-third year of its activities, stronger than ever in its position as "the largest distributor of automobiles in the world."

The growth of the Howard organization to its mighty position today in the automobile merchandising world probably is the most quickly shown in a comparison of figures. The first year the Buick sales under Howard's direction were 88. Last month in Northern California alone there were 759 new Buicks registered while Southern California boasted the total to 1737. And there were still the Oregon and Nevada and other sections to be added to the Howard total of sales throughout the entire country, pointed out C. C. Kratzer, Buick dealer for Richmond, yesterday.

Contrasting to this is the modest beginning of Howard with Buick on the coast. That first year the entire factory output was only 750 cars, which is less than seven hours production at the Buick Motor company's huge plants today. But as production stepped up at the factory so did Howard sales in this territory. The small one-carload shipments began increasing until Howard started the motor car world by bringing through an entire trainload.

Today there is a continuous chain of Buicks moving from the factory to Pacific Coast points, a fact that is obvious in the great number of registrations chalked up for Buick which is shown in motor car registrations in this State to be leading all six-cylinder cars in the number of units sold.

So figures alone can tell an eloquent story of Howard progress. Other statistics only emphasize this. From the one little building in which the Howard activities began, the organization

LIFTS HELD TO BE DANGEROUS BY AUTO ASSN

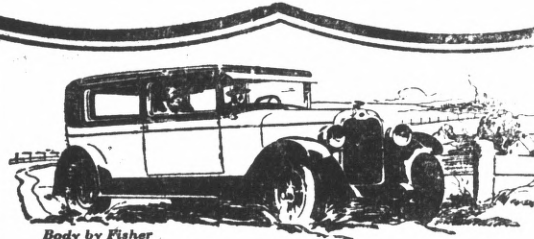

Elimination of the dangerous practice of giving 'lifts' to school children is the aim of the California State Automobile Association, which is cooperating with the American Automobile Association, in a campaign to educate the public to a realization of evils which arise from 'hitch hiking.' Teachers, parents and motorists are being appealed to for cooperation in this matter.

"The part of the motorist is to drive carefully when passing through school zones and to refuse rides to those children who ask," said John R. Graham, member of the Association Public Safety committee. "This is a difficult thing to do, but consistent refusal on the part of all motorists soon will discourage the lift seeker and this is the greatest kindness the motor car owner could do any child. Drivers should remember that they are responsible in case of accidents involving their youthful passengers."

"Motorists should not need to be reminded of the dangers of perpetuating this practice by catering to it. Once given a lift, the child repeats his request daily. At first, he may have had the caution to stand on the curb and wave his appeal to the passing driver. Gradually, however, he becomes more and more daring. He will crowd out into the stream of vehicles, thus becoming a menace to others as well as endangering himself."

"Parents and teachers should do all in their power to discourage this habit which is so easily developed. Their duties are to point out the manifold hazards involved and to place lift-seeking in the category of those things that are definitely forbidden."

HUPP SEDAN DELIVERED

S. W. Risley of the Standard Oil company received a Hupmobile sedan of the new line from the W. J. LaFranz company last week. Another of the sedans is now on display at La Fran's salesroom. It is equipped with six disc wheels, the two extras mounted in fender wells on each side of the car. The wheels are gray, the fenders, the apron board and top, black, and body, gray. The large headlights are entirely nickel. A trunk rack at the rear is regular equipment on the car.

SHUMATE NOW MANAGER

C. K. Shumate has taken over the management of the Chevrolet automobile agency in Richmond. Since Harry Golden has purchased an agency in Los Angeles there will be no change in the policy of "Golden Rule Service," inaugurated by Golden. The company delivered one cabriolet, two coupes, and two coaches last week. An offer of $100 for any used car turned in on a new Chevrolet, has been made by the company.

LICENSE REQUEST FILED

Officials of the California Division of Motor Vehicles, estimated that 100,000 applications for 1928 licenses were received by mail last Thursday. Applications for licenses may be made at the offices of the Division beginning

December 15, it was announced by Frank G. Snook, head of the department. By December 15, one million mail applications will be received, it was estimated.

SPEEDSTER REBUILT

John La Torraca, local racing driver, may rebuild the "La Torraca Special" which he has used this summer on California race tracks. It was announced last week. La Torraca contemplates installing a direct drive in the car. With this arrangement only the clutch will be between the motor and rear axle, the gear box being eliminated.

LEAVITT NOW CALIFORNIA KNIGHT DISTRIBUTOR

J. H. Hourtane and H. S. McQuone, Richmond and Berkeley dealers in the Willys-Knight and Whippet, were present at the banquet given last Friday at the hotel in Oakland, when J. W. Leavitt, California automobile dealer, announced his acquisition of the distribution of the Willys-Knight and Whippet in California. There will be no change in the present order of things, the dealers remaining the same as now. Leavitt formerly handled the Willys-Knight distribution in this district, and now will supply cars to both California and Nevada. His experience in the California automobile field, and his understanding of the dealer's needs, this him well for the position, McQuone declared.

MORE NEW BUICKS

Three carloads of new Buicks, mostly closed models, arrived at C. C. Kratzer agency last week. Both Master and Standard Sixes were included in the shipment. The three new Buicks which arrived at the salesroom two weeks ago, have all been delivered in the last week. These cars were equipped with six wire wheels and a trunk rack in the rear.

A chassis shown at the salesrooms in the past week, reveals a convenient feature of Buick construction. Small pipes feed the bearings of the hand brake and the rear springs, with grease. The pipes are led to an opening in the sidecap board, where a grease gun can be connected. This eliminates "getting under the car" to lubricate isolated bearings.

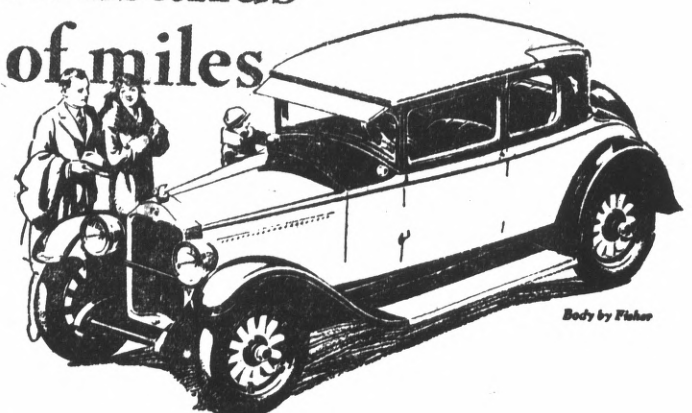

PONTIAC SEDAN TAKEN

A Pontiac sedan was delivered by George Olsen, local dealer, last week. The All American Oakland Six, will arrive at the salesroom soon Olsen announced.

AVOID CARBON

Carbon deposits in the cylinders may be prevented to a certain extent by, not filling the motor excessively and by infrequent use of the choke. In the advice of the Western Auto Supply company here, The company announces the stocking of Duro Gloss, a top finish, not a dressing, which can stand heat of 250 degrees for three hours or more. This makes the top of the car impervious to heat or cold, as well as being preserved by the finish. It renders the top waterproof, and for this purpose is also adaptable for side curtains. Pint and quart cans may be obtained.

ALL-RICHMOND BATTLE TODAY WITH S.F. TEAM

A rejuvenated All-Richmond football team will meet the San Francisco Mission today at 2:30 o'clock. Manager John Walker who lately has been coaching the team, has bolstered up the line with the addition of Salisbury, 225 pound right tackle. "No plays will come through that position," Walker said. Schwartz, 217 pounds, will handle left guard, and Bonnevill, 185 pounds, holds the right guard position. A weighty proposition the line will be for the Mission this afternoon. Walker will direct the team from his customary quarterback post, while Lavenue and Hollan will take the halfback jobs, and Adecock will play fullback. Walker says he plans to use an unbalanced formation for his line plays, shifting the tackles to re-inforce one side of the line. Balanced formation will be employed on punts, and the "zeagle" or spreading out formation will be assumed.

by the team on pass plays. Walker predicts that this last formation will work well.

LINEUP
Barley and Schneider, ends; Aiken and Salisbury, tackles; Schwartz, and Bonnevill, guards; Fawcett, center; Walker, quarterback; Lavenue and Hollan, halfbacks; Adecock fullback; substitutes: Carson, Mariola, Limb-hocker, Gonzales, Frazier Darling, Fraser and Cleveland.

The session will be premonitory of the presidential campaign. The country is fairly through with war hysteria and the immediate problems of post-war readjustment. It is prepared to resume in a normal way its traditional diversions of playing politics, despairing of the republic, pointing with pride, viewing with alarm and worrying about the countless things concerning which "there ought to be a law."

It is near eight years since Harding as a candidate electrified the country by scraping "normalcy" out of a thoroughly unabridged dictionary and posing it as an appropriate destination for the country. We have been on the way ever since and are nearer than ever before. Aside from taxation, the war debts and armament reduction, there are not many conversational hangovers from war times and war psychology. This country has gotten farther and faster away from the war state of mind than any other, and most people would say that President Coolidge is entitled to a good bit of responsibility.

CAL GOOD FOR COUNTRY

If Harding was the prophet of normalcy, Coolidge was the performer. In more than four years as President he has not only refused to get excited, but has kept other folks from it. Concede that he hasn't been a very picturesque President, as a Roosevelt might have been; admit that he has not engaged much in reconstructing the world and doctoring up its social and economic schemes, as Wilson might have done. Still, pretty much the whole country concedes that he has been good for it.

This country has spasms of devotion to lofty idealism and constructive reform; but more than anything else it likes to have business good. Coolidge has attended to that detail, and when he goes back to Northampton or to Plymouth in March, 1929—provided he goes—there will be many people who, while thinking that

China Missionaries Suffer Hardships Under Civil War

PEKING, Dec. 30.—The impossible state of affairs which exists in nationalist controlled China as far as American missionaries are concerned is amply illustrated by the experiences of one missionary which have reached the Legion here.

After the petty militarists had occupied the mission, church, hospital, school and private residences of the Americans for months, they appealed to the nationalist heads at Nanking who gave orders that the militarists vacate. The latter refused and a second appeal to Nanking brought word that they were powerless if the local commanders would not release the American property.

A special appeal was made to one military commander occupying a new mission which had cost $4,500 to build. He had practically wrecked it with filth and general bad treatment while he occupied it without paying rent. The Americans suggested that they would sell it to him for 2,000 cash. The militarists, feeling that he had the house anyway, offered $500 in cash and the balance in his I. O. U. payable in yearly installments. That was refused and he continues to live in the American house free of charge.

Walker plans to remodel the garage to make car storage feasible, and the interior will be painted also. George Foster has been engaged to do repair work for the garage. Work will be absolutely guaranteed, Walker said.

Several hundred miles of new streets in the District of Columbia and adjacent territory in Maryland and Virginia are planned for the future, according to a report received by the National Automobile Club.
